

Outer Space (Earths Final Frontiers)

This exciting new series looks at places on Earth (and beyond) that are yet to be fully explored. There are five books in the series including Outer Space and Remote Jungles. Each book teaches students what we know, how we found it out and possibilities for future explorations using new technology. It includes solid geographical content to explain where the places are and why they are unexplored. It considers the pros and cons of continuing to explore to encourage students to discuss the issues and make up their own minds. It features case studies from past and current explorations enabling students to apply their understanding to real-life situations.
